2. The key points in brief

HunterLog works without a user account. There is no advertising, no tracking and no third-party analytics. Your hunting journal (bag, hunts, sightings, hunting equipment such as stands, firearm and ammunition details, photos, notes, documents) is stored exclusively on your device. We, as the provider, do not receive this data.

3. What data does the app process?

Logbook data. Bag records, hunts, sightings, stands, firearm and ammunition details, photos, notes and details about your hunting licence, firearms licence and other documents are stored exclusively on your device. The legal basis is Art. 6(1)(b) GDPR (providing the app's functions). This information (in particular firearm and location data) can be especially sensitive. It only leaves your device if you export or share it yourself, for example as a PDF.

Location. If you allow it, the app uses your location to save the location of a harvest, a hunt or a stand. The legal basis is your consent (Art. 6(1)(a) GDPR) given via the iOS permission prompt. You can withdraw it at any time in iOS Settings. The app keeps working: you enter the place by hand or set the position of a stand by tapping on the map.

Photos and camera. The app only accesses images that you select or take. They are stored locally.

Moon phase and analyses. The moon phase is calculated on the device. Statistics are created entirely on your device.

Notifications. Reminders about expiring documents are scheduled locally on your device. No data is transmitted to us for this.

Trial and subscription. Purchase and subscription are handled by Apple. We do not receive payment data. The app only checks via Apple StoreKit whether a subscription is active. To count the free 7-day trial, the app stores the time of the first launch in your device's keychain. This value contains no information about you and does not leave your device. The legal basis is Art. 6(1)(f) GDPR (legitimate interest in a fair trial that cannot be abused); access to the device is strictly necessary for this within the meaning of Section 25(2) no. 2 of the German TDDDG.

Contact and support. If you write to us, we process your email address, the content of your message and the automatically attached details (app version, system version, device model) in order to handle your request (Art. 6(1)(b) or (f) GDPR). We delete the correspondence as soon as it is no longer needed and no statutory retention periods apply.

4. Disclosure to third parties

Your data is not passed on to third parties, except to Apple (App Store, subscription handling), insofar as you subscribe.

5. Transfers to third countries

Apple is a company based in the USA. When you use the App Store, data may be processed there. According to Apple, it relies on appropriate safeguards for this, such as the EU Commission's standard contractual clauses; details can be found in Apple's privacy policy. We do not operate our own servers outside the EU.

6. Storage period

Your data remains stored until you delete it or uninstall the app.

How to delete your data: You delete individual entries (harvests, hunts, stands, firearms, ammunition, documents, photos) directly in the app by swiping left or via “Delete”. You delete all data at once by removing the app from your device. Since we do not receive any of your data, there is nothing to delete on our side. The exception is support correspondence by email: you can request its deletion at any time at info@appetit-software.de.

7. Your rights

You have the right of access, rectification, erasure, restriction of processing, data portability and objection, as well as the right to withdraw consent at any time. Where processing is based on Art. 6(1)(f) GDPR, you can object to it on grounds relating to your particular situation. You also have the right to lodge a complaint with a data protection supervisory authority, for example the state data protection authority responsible for us or the authority at your place of residence. If you have questions, write to us at info@appetit-software.de.

8. Obligation to provide data, automated decisions

Providing your data is voluntary. Without location, photos or notifications the app keeps working, but some convenience functions (map, expiry reminders) are only available to a limited extent. There is no automated decision-making, including profiling, with legal effect. Statistics are purely analyses on your device.

9. Data security

The data is stored in the protected app storage of your device. We recommend regularly making a device backup and saving your hunting journal as a PDF.

10. Changes

We will adjust this policy when the app or the legal situation changes. You can always find the current version in the app under Settings.
